POP UP FASHION – ILUMIHAUS – WELL WELL – POST COLLECTIVE & SYGNS – NINA NOLTE – CHICANO – ATELIER GODOLE – HAZE & GLORY

BIKINI BERLIN is starting off 2016 by welcoming a host of exciting new pop-up box tenants from the worlds of fashion, modern art and interior design. Two former tenants will also be making a comeback and presenting their products in the concept shopping mall once again from February. And the gastro offer is being extended with the addition of Chicano, a new Mexican eatery concept.

POP UP FASHION BERLIN

Since December, Pop Up Fashion Berlin has been offering young designers and artists a location in which to showcase their products in a curated setting. At the beginning of February, Pop Up Fashion Berlin also moved into one of the BIKINI BERLIN Boxes where it will be presenting new, exciting designers until the end of the month.

ILUMIHAUS

Until the end of February Ilumihaus is offering customers an exclusive selection of lights and décor items made from onyx marble, a special type of limestone that is translucent and attracts attention with its iridescent, shimmering colours. Onyx marble, which comes from Mexico, is therefore the perfect material for atmospheric lamps, which give off a particularly pleasant, warm light.

POST COLLECTIVE & SYGNS

Two innovative Berlin start-ups will be sharing a pop-up box this February. Post Collective is a gallery for exclusive art by Europe's leading Instagram photographers. The visuals are printed on the finest Hahnemühle paper. These high-quality art prints will be exhibited together with the popular neon designs by Sygns, the Berlin-based design and manufacturing company which offers creative neon lights and letters. Together with selected designers and artists, Sygns produces light objects both in series and limited editions. The designers and artists work closely alongside glassblowers to design these unique items.

NEW GASTRONOMY CONCEPT: CHICANO – REAL BURRITOS

In mid-February the brains behind Funk You – Natural Foods will be opening a new Mexican gastronomy concept on the ground floor of BIKINI BERLIN. Chicano – real burritos will be offering healthy, varied lunch menus. Chicanos is the name for Mexicans and their descendants who live in the United States. The burrito is an integral part of Mexican food culture. Diners at Chicano can watch their burritos being filled with fresh ingredients. They can also choose between gluten-free burritos and vegetarian variations. A real highlight is the different sauces you can choose from, which turn every burrito into a real taste sensation. The burrito concept is accompanied by Spirit Coffee: as well as coffee specialities they will also be offering ice lollies – which are known as “paletas” in Mexico. The restaurant offers seating for 60 people.

ATELIER CODOLÉ AND HAZE & GLORY

Following their success in 2015, the labels Atelier Codolé and Haze & Glory have returned to the BIKINI BERLIN concept shopping mall. Atelier Codolé offers couture jewellery from France. The designers use a wide variety of materials including beads, threads and precious gemstones. The label will be staying until the end of July. Haze & Glory was only founded in 2014 by three friends from Germany. The label has made it its mission to produce vintage-inspired premium fashion with exceptional tailoring at an affordable price, without exploiting workers in producing countries. Haze & Glory's fair fashion will be on sale at BIKINI BERLIN until the end of April.
